

two round robins is an ambient music artist currently based in Ljubljana, Slovenia. His work delves into the captivating interplay between organic and synthesized sounds, seeking innovative ways to blend and test the boundaries between naturally occurring sounds and human-made sonic manipulation. Through his compositions, he explores the tension and harmony between the raw and the artificial, delicate and harsh - creating immersive soundscapes that challenge listeners to reconsider the relationship between nature and technology.